The restaurant from Birmingham offers 24 different dishes and drinks on the menu at an average £27. What Holly Evans likes about Piccolino Birmingham:

Very good meat restaurant. Authentic Argentine flavors in the empanadas, chimichurris and desserts. Very good wine chart including very good selection of Argentine wines read more. In pleasant weather you can even eat and drink in the outdoor area, And into the accessible rooms also come customers with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. What Aiden Robertson doesn't like about Piccolino Birmingham:

I guess that overall the food was 'fine ', but not worth the price tag. The chips were under done (or over done? Some were really jaw achingly hard to chew), and I think some hadn 't been cooked as they had some sort of flour batter on them still. Rest of the sides were 'fine ' but not massively flavoursome. I wasn 't massively impressed with the peppercorn sauce, but the steak itself was cooked well, if not particul... read more. At Piccolino Birmingham in Birmingham, juicy meat is freshly roasted on an open flame and garnished with fine sides, Moreover, the sweet desserts of the house shine not only in the eyes of our little guests. Here they also cook South American fresh fish, meat, as well as beans and potatoes, It's possible to chill out at the bar with a freshly tapped beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks.
