We dined at the Indian Gallery whilst on a weekend trip to Glasgow and although Indian cuisine is not usually our first choice, it was very good. The staff were very polite and friendly, the food was very good given the price of 2 courses including a bottle of wine for 2. Perhaps the chance to order some extras at the start might have been nice, the service was a little rushed when we arrived. As it was a Sunday it w... read more. The place also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat in pleasant weather, And into the accessible rooms also come guests with wheelchairs or physiological limitations. What Wilma Daugherty doesn't like about Indian Gallery:
We are not local to Glasgow so went on the quality of reviews. Indian gallery was a good pick. The food was good and there were good veggie options across the menu. Service was polite and helpful but not slick. The food wasn't a bargain. It didn't make a difference to the enjoyment of the evening however and we would go back when next in the area. For those who want to a cocktail after work and sit with friends or alone, Indian Gallery from Glasgow is a good bar, Furthermore, the visitors love the creative combination of different meals with new and partially experimental ingredients - a nice example of successful Asian Fusion. Customers also value the application of typical Indian spices, the menu also includes delectable vegetarian meals.
