The place from London offers 122 different dishes and drinks on the menu at an average price of £12. What elsiebee likes about El Gaucho:

A cosy tucked away restaurant in South Kensington. Excellent Argentinian steaks and Malbec which we are unable to track down to buy over here. Very pleasant service and nice decor we particularly liked the space saving idea of using the beams as a wine rack! Would certainly recommend to anyone visiting Natural History Museum or Royal Albert Hall. read more. What JulieO doesn't like about El Gaucho:

Great location but unfortunately that is all I can say was really great. The tables are too near each other and overall we just felt it was too claustrophobic. My steak was lovely but expensive for what it was and the burger my husband had a piece of gristle in which to me does not scream quality meat. read more. If you crave for tasty snacks, El Gaucho with its magical desserts can surely make an end of it, At the bar, you can relax with a cool beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks. The burgers of this restaurant are among the highlights and are usually served with filling sides such as chips, leaf and cabbage salads or wedges.
