The restaurant from Glasgow offers 234 different meals and drinks on the menu at an average £7. What Santos Pacocha likes about Mamafubu:

Found this restaurant online while visiting Glasgow for a course. The food was delicious, the service excellent (even for just a takeaway The restaurant itself also seemed to have a great vibe considering I was only there long enough to pick up my order. read more. As a customer, you can use the WLAN of the establishment free of charge, Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and be served. What Darrel Jones doesn't like about Mamafubu:

This place is absolutely dreadful. Grotty wee establishment with horrible food. Power boiled dry rice. I only wanted a few gyozas but was told I could only order at a time as the menu stated. Ridiculous. The staff are peculiar and seem very confused....The toilets are up several steep flights of stairs with bannisters which are hanging off the walls. Oddly their accessible toilet is up there also. Avoid at all costs.... read more. If you want to spoil your palate with a bit of culinary flair, this is the place to be: The imaginative Asian fusion cuisine of the Mamafubu from Glasgow - a delicious combination of the familiar and the unexpected, Also, of course, the atmosphere has a big influence, which is why the guests appreciate not only the scrumptious meals, but also the bistro itself love. The dishes are prepared typically Asian, and you may look forward to the scrumptious typical seafood cuisine.

A thumbnail image of a restaurant menu, likely the Mamafubu menu. It is a multi-column document with various food and drink items listed, including prices. The menu is organized into sections, with some items highlighted in red. The text is small and difficult to read in detail, but it appears to be a standard restaurant menu layout.
