We had a rare child free evening so decided to try out the new restaurant in town because luckily for us, it's just round the corner from our house. We received a lovely welcome from the waitress who was very knowledgeable about the ingredients and...the dishes. My husband is vegetarian and there was so much choice for him, usually he may have two choices at the most when we go out to eat. The food was delicious, the... read more. In pleasant weather you can even be served in the outdoor area, And into the accessible rooms also come customers with wheelchairs or physiological limitations. WLAN is available at no extra cost. What Phoebe Hall doesn't like about Kin Arai? Thai:

Some of the starters here are quite good, but you get the feeling that the menu as a whole is quite limited. For what it is it is, a Thai in a village, it is also pretty expensive. Service could be quicker, we had to...wait a bit, but the food was hot when it arrived. Nothing bad here, but nothing great either. With some new main courses on the menu out of but as is I'm afraid. In the joint you will find a little bit of this and a little bit of that, paired with their well-known Tapas, Furthermore, the magical treats of this restaurant sparkle not only in the eyes of our young guests. If you're the type for more exotic meals, then try the Thai meals.
