Called in around looking for a late night snack. I had eaten many shawarmas on my trips to the Middle East, and have been trying to find them locally. I opted for a chicken shawarma, and it was the best I have tasted in...this country. Service wasn't great, but it is more of a takeaway than a restaurant, although there are a few tables read more. What User doesn't like about A&t Mundi House:

I used to go to this place despite the food being average. The manager or owner was rather pleasant but I think whoever was doing the cooking was not much of a cook. read more. At A&t Mundi House in Oxford, juicy grilled food is freshly roasted on an open flame and garnished with delicious sides, Customers often choose the tasty, fluffy flatbread, which is perfect for dunking into the own hummus or a creamy yogurt dip; the strong connection of figs and goat cheese undeniably also belongs to the delicious bits of the multifaceted Middle Eastern cuisine.
