We recently had afternoon tea at the Grimsdyke Hotel for my birthday and had a really lovely experience! In our tea we got a selection of sandwiches, little cakes and scones with jam and clotted cream plus a teapot each of a tea of our choice which they kept refilling for us. We sat in the impressive dining room with a huge fireplace and lots of wood panelling and antique furniture which was really atmospheric, looki... read more. We visited for afternoon tea. Paid a deposit in advance towards the final bill it was a set agreed price as per advertised on their website. Prices were agreed in the phone. Upon arrival food was limited for the ges were dirty. Service was chaotic had to ask for drink and water several times with waiting staff looking unhappy upon the request. They overcharged us hugely saying they changed their prices over mother's... read more.
