Stopped here for lunch just before crossing the border into the south of Ireland. We were seated quickly and given menus by a very pleasant waitress. Two of us had soup and toasted sandwiches and two toasted sandwiches and chips. We all enjoyed our food and would definitely return when next in the area. read more.

Was travelling from southern Ireland to northern Ireland and decided to stop for lunch in Belcoo. The menu outside Jacks looked very good with plenty of variety. We went inside and ordered. I got a triple club sandwich with chips. My colleague got burger and chip. It was very disappointing the chips were totally overcooked they were dark brown and had definitely been fried more than once. My sandwich was full of fatt... read more.
