My favourite place in oxford for tea, the staff are lovely, it has a range of interesting teas and really good cake. It's not cheap, but you gets what you pay for and i'll happily fork out for a good pot of oolong and a slice of home-made apple pie any day. read more. When the weather is nice you can also be served outside. What Naomi

Matthews doesn't like about The High Table Brasserie:

the rose concentrates on fresh ingredients and carefully cook it as a civilized oasis among the more busy coffee shops and sandwich sites on the high street. if it were not for the small niggles (at this occasion) and the mild frostiness in the service, I would recommend it without reservation. The High Table Brasserie from Oxford is famous for its delicious burgers, to which aromatic fries, salads and other sides are presented, here they serve a appetizing brunch for breakfast. Sometimes you may not want to consume a lot, in this case one of the tasty sandwiches, a healthy salad or another snack is just right, Also, the guests of the establishment love the extensive variety of various coffee and tea specialities that the establishment has to offer.
