a very friendly local restaurant. the personal offers a great service that is genuine. eating is really good. my favorite is the ingwer lammalti, which is served with the largest naan brot I even saw. well done team gangs read more. In beautiful weather you can even have something in the outdoor area. What RameldaB doesn't like about Ganges Brasserie:

They did spiceless Indian takeaway food, which I have never had before. The tandoori chicken was dry as bone and not even sufficiently salted, let alone tasty. The chicken biriani was very oily tomato-type rice with bits of chicken. Couldn't taste any spice or see any vegetables, just broken rice floating in vegetable oil. The vegetable curry was like Irish stew, without salt and pepper. There wasn't a hint of chilli... read more. If you want to spoil your palate with a bit of culinary flair, this is the place to be: The imaginative Asian fusion cuisine of the Ganges Brasserie from Brighton and Hove - a delicious combination of traditional and the unexpected, You can also unwind at the bar with a cool beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks.
