This newly opened fish and chip shop has sparked a debate among diners, showcasing both impressive portions and disappointing cooking. While some have praised the generous servings and crispy batter, others experienced soggy, greasy fish and undercooked chips, leaving them unsatisfied. Though the staff's friendliness and prompt service received accolades, the overall consistency of the food has been questioned. Patrons encourage a visit, hoping for improvement, but they caution that better alternatives may exist nearby. For those seeking a casual meal, the mixed feedback warrants a thoughtful choice before diving in.
