While some patrons rave about the crispy fish and generous portions, others express disappointment with stale buns and cold food delivery. The chips often receive praise for their quality, but issues with incorrect orders and inconsistent service mar the overall experience. Customers appreciate the reasonable prices and cozy atmosphere, though several note that staff demeanor can sometimes be less than welcoming. Overall, PG Chips shows promise, with its delicious offerings appealing to many; however, improvements in service consistency and communication could elevate it further in the minds of diners.
