A mostly good restoration of a historic city venue next to the Law Courts. However food is extremely average (service is good and efficient) and certainly not at the level of Fuller's pubs (for example) which also occupy interesting properties. We had an extremely poor fish and chips (with more batter than fish) and sub standard Pie, pathetic salad and very bland tomato soup. I don't expect to be comparing against we... read more. At The Old Bank Of England in City of London, Westminster, there are scrumptious sandwiches, healthy salads and further snacks for quick hunger, as well as cold and hot beverages, Also, the drinks menu at this place is exceptional and offers a significant and comprehensive diversity of both local and international beers, which are definitely worth a try. After the meal (or during it), you have the opportunity to still relax at the bar with a alcoholic or non-alcoholic drink, The visitors of the restaurant also appreciate the comprehensive selection of differing coffee and tea specialities that the establishment has to offer.
