Worth coming here just for the smiling face of the woman who runs front of house. The food is superb, all perfectly executed and cooked in the kitchen that you can see from your table. BYO making it exceptional value. You'll struggle to find better dim sum anywhere in London. read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat and drink in nice weather, and there is free WLAN. The premises on site are accessible, and therefore no problem for guests with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. What Benone Morar doesn't like about Panda Dim Sum Cafe:

Quite simply the worst takeaway I've ever had the displeasure of enduring. Unfortunately a furious customer in the aftermath, especially at £31 for two people. To start with, my order was bungled and the soup I ordered was replaced by a dry noodle dish. The dim sun and pork buns were decent for sure but this is where it ends. The salad was merely cucumber drizzled in soya sauce and the two noodle dishes we were left... read more. At Panda Dim Sum Cafe in Barnet, there are fine sandwiches, small salads and further snacks for quick hunger, as well as cold and hot beverages, here they serve a appetizing brunch in the morning. The preparation of the menus is done authentically Asian, The creative fusion of different meals with fresh and occasionally daring products is highly valued by the customers - a good example of Asian Fusion.
