Afternoon Tea At Grovefield House:

A lovely spot with delightful grounds. Inside, a warm welcome greeted us and this excellent customer service continued as the hallmark of our visit. A great choice of sandwiches, as much tea as you can drink, scones, jam and cream with a selection of fine cakes to close. A thoroughly enjoyable afternoon we'll be back read more. The diner and its premises are wheelchair accessible and thus usable with a wheelchair or physiological limitations,

Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and eat and drink. What CatB247 doesn't like about

Afternoon Tea At Grovefield House:

Food was OK, nothing hugely special and coffee was awful. They did accommodate gluten free but did not ask at booking so couldn't do dairy free on the day. It's not a bad atmosphere and the venue is dated (not unkempt just oldy woldy). I got married here 20 years ago and it looks the same... Timi, who served us, was fantastic and made the afternoon with her attentiveness and smile. read more. During meals, a refreshing drink is essential. In
