nice quiet and cozy cafe in the city. very little noise comes from the main street outside, so world observation and breakfast the ideal way to enjoy this cafe. good was nice, very typical breakfast food, the speck is not great, but any other food item was delicious. mushrooms above all, not slim to them, but served hot. very cheap.

Stopped off here for a bite to eat, we had food from the 2 meals for £7.50 menu. 2 meals (pasty, beans chips) (beef burger and chips) a coffee and a tea cost £10 so not bad value at all. Staff were friendly, food arrived quickly, food was not piping hot but not cold either. In general the cafe appeared clean and tidy. I would come here again at some point. read more.
