My friend and I met for coffee and chat, cannot fault this beautiful tea room. The staff were very welcoming and jolly, we will be going there again. Thanks we felt as if we were at home. X read more. The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological disabilities, Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and be served. What Andrew M doesn't like about Melanie's At 49:

A quaint coffee shop, with its quaintness personified by dirty crockery and cutlery, and an unusually large population of flies. The tea was not well strained and the accompanying milk was served partially in my wife's lap. The coffee was fine. The rhubarb and strawberry lattice pie was served on a piping hot plate though itself was cold making the ice-cream largely redundant. At exit I also managed to pick up the bi... read more. The extensive diversity of coffee and tea specialties makes a visit to Melanie's At 49 even more worthwhile, here they serve a appetizing brunch in the morning. You can just get one of the tasty sandwiches, a small salad or another snack, if you're not that hungry, Those who are passionate about the British cuisine will enjoy the large variety of traditional menus and indulge in the taste of England.
