We went as a group for a birthday meal. The food was well served and a good price. We chose a sharing platter as we were a group of six and this made sense. Unfortunately our meal was spoiled by another table who stared at us throughout the meal and made unpleasant comments to us. Seeing as this was a family meal and our table consisted of parents and our children this was a little disappointing. This was not the res... read more. The rooms in the restaurant are wheelchair accessible and can also be used with a wheelchair or physical limitations, Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and eat and drink. What Tanya Khan doesn't like about Theterrace:

Really looked forward to trying the food here. Unfortunately wasn't blown away by either the food or the service. Starter of calamari was nice, Greek salad as main not so. Had to try several times to get attention to get 2nd drink, no further offers of drinks. Nobody asked if we wanted dessert. There was no atmosphere in the place at all. Very disappointed read more. In the Theterrace from Southend-on-Sea you can enjoy meals as they are common in Europe, The local offers its visitors the opportunity to try authentic Turkish menus like Lahmacun and various Doner. But make sure to leave some room for dessert!. If you decide to come for breakfast, you are offered a versatile brunch, visitors often choose the delicious, fluffy flatbread, which is perfect for dipping into the own hummus or a creamy yogurt dip; the unusual connection of figs and goat cheese undeniably also belongs to the best dishes of the multifaceted Middle Eastern cuisine.
