First time trying wagamamas. I did really enjoy my meal but still don't get the huge hype- I'm more of a burger and fries girl. I had sirloin steak on yakisoba noodles which were yummy. The duck bao buns were phenomenal, would come back for them for sure! The bbq beef gyozas were disgusting just not my personal preference super weird tasting. Staff were all very nice and it was nice for a little change. Would need to... read more. The restaurant offers free WiFi for its visitors, Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and be served. The premises on site are accessible, and therefore no problem for clientele with wheelchairs or physiological limitations. What E6320JOCarolm doesn't like about Wagamama's:

I love the food in Wagamama and usually have teriyaki soba steak. However I have a couple of issues. The teriyaki soba used to be served with sirloin steak, now it just says steak, not such good tender quality meat I'm afraid and the price has gone up! The next issue I have is that your plates are never pre-heated and the noodles go cold very quickly (this does seem to be an issue no matter which Wagamama visited). I... read more. In Glasgow City, traditional menus are prepared in the kitchen of Wagamama's with typical Asian spices fine, and it's made with lots of fresh vegetables, fish and meat, easily digestible Japanese meals prepared. After the meal (or during it), you can still relax at the bar with a alcoholic or non-alcoholic drink, Besides, the creative blend of different meals with new and sometimes adventurous ingredients is appreciated by the guests - a good case of Asian Fusion.
