I only stepped in briefly so cannot list everything sold (this is like Kim's Game! There was certainly a fine selection of sweets and they sell hot drinks and water bottles. Newspapers too. No seating, it is not meant to be a place to loiter in. Plenty of seats on the station platform/ waiting room. read more. The rooms in the restaurant are wheelchair accessible and can also be used with a wheelchair or physiological limitations, and there is no-charge WiFi. What TheEducationalist doesn't like about The Pantry On Platform 1:

In a word 'terrible'. A Co-op store is literally thirty seconds away so I suggest you buy supplies for your journey there before going to the station, as everything here appears well overpriced. I took out a mortgage on a coffee and did not realise it was only lukewarm until I was on the train. I tried to drink it but it was unpalatable. I have used the rail network extensively and I can honestly say that this is the... read more.
