The Potters Arms offers a mixed experience, with a disappointing atmosphere overshadowing its potential. While one reviewer found the service lacking and the food subpar, another praised the venue highly for hosting an event with professionalism and delicious food. Despite this, a highlight was the exceptional service provided by Summer, who went above and beyond for a family dining there. The restaurant's comedy nights were well-received, with great acts and delicious food during the interval. For those seeking a fantastic roast dinner or a pleasant dining experience, The Potters Arms may be worth a visit, especially in warmer weather.
