What User likes about Hardy's Pub: I had an ox cheek lasagna with garlic bread and it was by far one of the tastiest lasagnes I've ever had with real shreds of meat in, it was delicious! One of our party had a nut allergy and they were really friendly and...accommodating! Highly recommend this hidden gem for brilliant food read more. The diner and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus usable with a wheelchair or physiological limitations, and there is no-charge WLAN. If the weather are right, you can also eat and drink outside. What Wayne Robinson doesn't like about Hardy's Pub:

Food was quite nice. But, places that put the cheap @rappy sauces on the table are basically saying that they don't really care about serving quality food. Why they do this is beyond me! If I buy something from a pub or restaurant, why would...I want put rubbish mustard or brown sauce on it?? If you put this stuff on tables, then I assume this is the quality of the ingredients in the kitchen. Please take a bit of pri... read more.
