Nested on a side, quiet street near Leicester square, nice deco, calm, not too busy. We had margarita pizza, seafood spaghetti and tuna salad. Pizza was excellent, thin, crispy base. The spaghetti had decent flavour with calamari, prawn and mussels. The tuna salad was average. Overall an enjoyable meal. The price is higher than average but as expected for a central location in Leicester square. read more. A visit to Little Italy is particularly valuable due to the comprehensive range of coffee and tea specialties, You can also unwind at the bar with a freshly tapped beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks. Naturally, they also offer you with crisply crunchy pizza, baked straight from the oven in traditional style, the restaurant offers but also meals from the European context.
