We ended up here after having walked the length of the prom. We really only wanted a drink as it was too early for lunch but I spotted that they served crab sandwiches and really fancied one. I was told that was on the lunch menu which hadn't started yet but the lovely waiter went and asked the chef who very kindly did one for me. It was delicious and gluten free too. Thank you. The Dell Cafe:

Very underwhelmed by the welcome chap writing out the specials board as we entered didn't even acknowledge us so we went and sat down at a vacant table. After waiting nearly 10 mins we were asked if we'd like to order at which stage we hadn't even been offered a menu! Chap flung a drinks menu at us and we resorted to going to look in the cabinet to find out what cakes were on offer. Order finally given and another 10... read more. A journey through Great Britain without getting on a plane is absolutely possible when it comes to culinary delights: The Dell Cafe in Isle of Wight traditionally shines for example with Fish and Chips, mashed potatoes or roast with Yorkshire Pudding and for dessert a delicious Trifle, You can't absolutely nothing wrong, especially with bite-sized Tapas, because there is something for every palate. In addition to small snacks, sweet pieces and cakes, we also serve cold and hot drinks, Moreover, the menu of this gastropub offers a good and especially large selection of beers from the region and the world that are definitely worth a try.
