User likes about The James Watt:

Probably mostly used by locals, this former post office is massive, appears to be clean, found staff to be pleasant and helpful, toilets were at ground floor level which is always a bonus, decor is tasteful to the buildings age 1899, it even has a...fairly large beer garden for those sunnier greenock days. read more. The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physical limitations, and there is free WiFi. If the weather are right, you can also eat outside. What User doesn't like about The James Watt:

we were tortured to the bathroom because we were gay. they accused us of drugging because we shared a cubic. when we said that we were happy to be searched, they said that they could not look for us and the security refused to display his license. When... when they claimed that their policy over toilets is displayed, they were previously ground to that day, but not to worry, as we were not "connected" when they chall... read more. During a meal, a good drink is essential. In this gastropub, you not only get delicious cuisine from the menu but also a comprehensive and particularly good diversity of good beers and other alcoholic beverages that go well with the food, Furthermore, the guests of the establishment enjoy the large selection of the differing coffee and tea specialities that the establishment has available. You have the option to, after the meal (or during it), also relax at the bar with an alcoholic or non-alcoholic drink, the menu also includes delectable vegetarian dishes.
