Few of us dropped by here for dinner after work and had loads of plates to share. All the food was really good and we had a good time. The service however was very uninvolved and often if you wanted to ask for a drink or something else, there was no one around for many minutes, so -1 star for that. read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat in beautiful weather. What Eduardo V doesn't like about Al Arez: I am going to try and use words that won't be censored by Tripadvisor, but this one of the worst dinners I have ever had in my life. Sure, you can serve bad, reheated, not fresh, poor quality, disgracefully 'cooked', but you can't charge £50 for such a shame of food quality. You should be ashamed of your business. You can't charge £12.50 for a stew (used in all other plates, made with POOR ingredients and definit... read more. Whether it's a delightful flatbread with a pleasant garlic dip or crispy falafel, the enjoyment of the menu from the Middle East almost feels like being on a vacation - topped off with a crispy, sweet baklava, you'll head home satisfied, there are also fine vegetarian meals in the menu. A comprehensive variety of fresh and fine juices is offered by the establishments, Easily digestible Mediterranean menus are also available.
