I tried a gluten-free pizza as it's easier on the stomach and it was tasty but I missed the usual crunchy base so next time I will try a normal pizza. We were a group of 8 and everyone was happy with the food and service. The portions were quite big. It was an evening in June and it was very hot inside probably because of the pizza oven and the fact that the large windows can't be... read more. The diner and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physical disabilities, Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and eat. What Kenneth Pettersen doesn't like about Arte Pazza: Dropped in on a regular Thursday. The restaurant was half full. We asked for a table outside and the waiter reluctantly showed us a table that they had to clear first.. Went 10 min without service or that we were given a menu, had to go inside to ask them to come out and be allowed to order the food.. Then it took almost 40 minutes before we got our dishes (and had to ask for them).. Fortunately, the food was very go... read more.
