This charming eatery in North Shields boasts a menu that delights with decadent pies and heavenly desserts, making it a local favorite. Diners rave about the warmth of the staff and the quirky, Geordie-themed décor. However, recent shifts towards disposable plates and cutlery in an environmental effort have left some guests feeling that the dining experience is lacking. While the food quality remains commendable, concerns over declining portion sizes and inconsistent service have been raised. Overall, this restaurant offers a unique experience, but enhancements in presentation and customer service could elevate it significantly.
