We called in between xmas and New Year for brunch. A combination of very wet weather and being popular with bikers made the floor and seats wet. Note that dogs are not allowed. I had a superb bacon and sausage sandwich. A large soft teacake filled with tasty meat. My cappuccino was very weak on first taste, but after a good stir was fine. Total bill for 2 was around £14. It was only open until 3pm not sure if that is... read more.

When the weather is nice you can also eat outside, And into the accessible rooms also come visitors with wheelchairs or physical limitations. WLAN is available free of charge. What higvin doesn't like about Penny Garth Cafe:

This caff is a favourite with bikies and cyclists and does a roaring trade with them. Cooked breakfast of fried eggs, sausages and bacon was ok. But the two waitresses were unsmiling and unfriendly to the point of surliness. The cook who brought out the food was a friendly fellow though. read more.
